

NEW, REVISED EDITION
of
A Text-book on Practical Obstetrics.

BY

EGBERT H. GRANDIN, M.D.,

Gynæcologist to the Columbian Hospital; Consulting Gynæcologist to the French Hospital; Fellow of the American Gynæcological Society, of the New York Academy of Medicine, of the New York Obstetrical Society, etc.

With the Collaboration of

GEORGE W. JARMAN, M.D.,

Gynæcologist to the Cancer Hospital; Instructor in Gynæcology in the Medical Department of the Columbia University; Late Obstetric Surgeon of the New York Maternity Hospital; Fellow of the New York Obstetrical Society, etc.

REWRITTEN, NEWLY INDEXED, CONSIDERABLY ENLARGED.

Illustrated with 64 Full-page Photographic Plates and 86 Illustrations in the Text. 461 Royal Octavo Pages. Prices, net, $4.00, Cloth; $4.75, Sheep. DELIVERED.

THE first edition of this valuable work has been so highly commended and sought after both by practicing physicians and college professors, that the author felt it a duty he owed the profession to rewrite the book, including in this SECOND EDITION an account of the progress that has been made in these important branches of the subject—viz. : Obstetric Surgery and Puerperal State—since the publication of the first edition. New and important plates and illustrations, taken from actual practice, have been added, thus making the book still more valuable to practitioners.

The adoption of the book as THE text-book on Obstetrics in a notably large number of the leading Medical Colleges goes to prove its value both to the Teacher and the Student. The subject, handled so ably by the author, is such an important one—since a thorough and correct knowledge and practice of it goes far toward the saving of life—that too much cannot be known about it, literally and practically.

WHAT PROMINENT TEACHERS OF OBSTETRICS THINK OF IT.

“I have taken great pleasure in looking through the second edition of Grandin and Jarma’s ‘Practical Obstetrics.’ I think it will be enough for me to say that it is the book I am using exclusively in my class work, and that several of the class waited two or three weeks after college opened in order to procure your second edition.”—DR. G. B. STEMAN, Professor of Obstetrics, Fort Wayne College of Medicine, Fort Wayne, Ind.

“I like the work very much and shall take occasion to call attention to it in my classes. The second edition is a great improvement, and will have a cordial welcome by students and the profession.”—J. U. BARNHILL, A.M., M.D., Professor of Principle and Practice of Obstetrics, Ohio Medical University, Columbus, Ohio.

"I consider there is no better work on Obstetrics extant than Grandin and Jarman's. I have recommended it to my class, and shall at my next lecture call the attention of my class to the new edition and advise them to procure it. I have recommended it to many practitioners."—W. C. DAY, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Barnes Medical College, St. Louis, Missouri.

"It is one of the most practical works on Practical Obstetrics I have at my command, and I have several of the most recognized authorities, and am always glad and ready to quote its teachings to the class."—J. H. McCARTY, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Birmingham Medical College, Birmingham Alabama.

"It is what it aims at, a practical work on obstetrics, in the sense that it is a working guide. It is a book that is most thoroughly up-to-date, and by reason of its direct method and exclusion of many features that every orthodox text-book is considered incomplete without, chiefly of an anatomical and physiological nature, will have greater influence in impressing the value of modern methods of practice. I have already recommended it to a number of physicians and students."—EDWARD A. AYERS, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, New York Polyclinic Medical School, New York City.

"In my judgment it is one of the best works of its kind now in reach of the physician, setting forth the line of symptoms to be considered by the practitioner and student in making up his Diagnosis of Pregnancy with valuable treatment during the period of gestation, and enabling the Accoucheur to guard and protect his patient against any danger that may arise. It is beautifully illustrated with fine plates of the different positions and stages of labor, giving the attendant an idea how they should conduct a case of confinement, therefore facilitating the cause which otherwise would be a long-continued labor."—GEORGE C. POTTER, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Central Medical College, St. Joseph, Missouri.

"I consider the work a very valuable one, eminently practical, thoroughly reliable, as evidence of which I have for some time past recommended it to my students."—D. A. HODGHEAD, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Children, College of Physicians and Surgeons, San Francisco, Cal.

"I have received Grandin and Jarman 'Practical Obstetrics' and, having looked it over, am much pleased with it. I shall continue to recommend it as a clear, concise, finely illustrated work, thoroughly up to date."—DAVID E. BOWMAN, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Toledo Medical College, Toledo, Ohio.

"'Practical Obstetrics,' by Grandin and Jarman, I wish to say that, in some regards, is the best I have ever seen. I have spoken favorably of it before the class for several years."—H. W. CHASE, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Omaha Medical College, Omaha, Nebraska.

"'Grandin and Jarman's Obstetrics' is recommended to our students as a text-book. I am well pleased with the work because it is practical and because it represents American obstetric practice."—H. B. RITTER, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics and Hygiene, Louisville Medical College, Louisville, Ky.

"I have been handed your recently published work on 'Obstetrics,' by Grandin and Jarman. I consider it one of the best works I have seen on the subject for the student's use."—B. P. MUSE, M.D., Professor of Obstetrics, Maryland Medical College, Baltimore, Md.

"After a careful examination of Grandin and Jarman's 'Practical Obstetrics,' I find it to be accurate in teaching all branches of obstetrics it claims to cover. It is thoroughly practical and up-to-date. It elaborates the portions that are either left out or cut short in so many of our standard works. It is, therefore, a book that should be in the hands of every student and every practitioner. If they ever see the book they will be sure to read it."—C. B. KINYON, M.D., Professor of Gynæcology and Obstetrics in Homœopathic Medical College of University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

For sale by booksellers generally, or will be sent, carriage free, on receipt of price, by

The F. H. Davis Company, Publishers.

PHILADELPHIA, 1914-16 Cherry St.

NEW YORK, 117 West Forty-second St.

CHICAGO, 9 Lakeside Building, 214-220 S. Clark St.